WARDCAME TO THERESCUE

The Teams Play a Great Game for the Final, but

BROOKLYN COULDN'T GET THE FLAG

Manager Hanlon Has a Long Conference

With Mr. Nimick.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

The series of ball games for the world's championship ended yesterday, New York again winning the pennant. The game was a good one and an error decided it. Mansger Hanlon left for New York and declares he will do nothing that will injure the Pittsburg elub.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. NEW YORK, October 29.-New York obtained a glorious victory to-day and settled the question of the world's championship. Three to two was the score of the game, and six to three of the series. Five straight games were won by the New Yorks, and Brooklyn is hushed to-night. The Association made a brave fight, but they could not hit O'Day a little bit, and especially when hits were needed. The New Yorks did not hit Terry to any extent, but they did better work than their antagonists. Again did Ward play a prominent part in the winning of the contest by his magnificent batting, base running and fielding. It was an unfortunate miss of a third strike by Bushong in the seventh inning, with two men out, that enabled the New Yorks to score the winning run. Corkhill did not play and Visner covered his position, but failed to bat in his American Association form.
It was a very interesting game to witness,

from start to finish, and the crowd greatly enjoyed the fun, despite the cold, forgetting the condition of the weather in the many brilliant plays with which the game abounded. O'Brien did splendid work in the outfield, as did Slattery. O'Rourke, Ward and Collins did the best batting, and Connor did some great base running. After the game Mr. Arthur Dixwell presented each of the New York club players, at the club house, with an elegant gold scarfpin. Manager Mutrie responded for the players, and cheers were given for Mr. Dixwell, Mr. Day, Mr. Mutrie and the New York club. There was considerable jubilation on the grounds, cheering, shouting, and the sounding of gongs. Everybody was happy. Most of the w Yorks left for home after the came. The attendance in the series was a little over 46,000.

A GOOD START. The Brooklyns were sent to the bat first. O'Brien seized his bat and stepped to the rub-ber. O'Day sent him to first base on balls. The bad balls began to roll up on Collins, but Hub got a nice one, and after bunting the horse hide toward third he beat it to first, Burns got a pretty one right over the plate and he shed it against the center field fence for fied to Ward and the first hand was out. A wild pitch put Burns on third, and then Pinkney struck out. Now came Terry to the bat. but he died at first from Ward to Connor, and the New Yorks came in to cut down that lead of two runs. Slatters hit the first ball pitched, and it went high enough to strike a snow cloud. It came down in O'Brien's hands. Tiernan hit the first ball and it banged up against the right from Collins to Foutz and Tiernan went to third. Then there was a yell for Ward, and Johnny sent the ball over Smith's head for three bases and Tiernan came home. Connor hit to Foutz, who, after fumbling the ball, passed it to Terry, who was at first, and the unner was out. STOPPED THE SCORING. In Brooklyns' second inning Visner hit to Slattery and sat down. Smith dropped a safe one in right center for a base, and Bushons forced him at second, from Conner to Ward Bushong was put out trying to steal second. In New Yorks second inning Richardson began the play by flying to Visner. After O'Rourke had hit up a foul which no one went after, he sent the ball to center for a base, and stole second on a short passed ball. Whitney made a neat sacrifice from Collins to first, and O'Rourke went to third. O'Rourke saw that O'Day was sure to strike out, and made a pretty attempt to steal home. It was well done, but it was a failure, for Bushong touched him out. In the third O'Brien was first. Darby got his base on balls, and then stole second. Ward threw Collins out at first, and O'Brien went to third. It looked like another run for the Groens now, and every Brooklynite was on needles. Three balls were called on Burns, and then Tom played the limit. As a consequence, he struck out and then made a kick. Foutz got first on balls and immediately stole second. had hit up a foul which no one went after, he

O'DAY MADE A HIT.

Pinkney went out, Ward to Connor. In the Slattery followed with a single to right. Tier-nan hit up a short fly to Smith, who threw to Collins and made a double play on Tiernan and O'Day. Ewing got a base on balls, and Ward went out from Collins to first. Fout filed to Richardson, and one hand was out. Visner struck out. Ward now got in an error by fumbling Smith's grounder. It was a had move for Bushong got a base on balls, and O'Brien came to the bat. Smith stole third when two strikes were called on O'Brien. O'Day was now in a close place, but he succeeded in striking O'Brien out, and thus preventing a tally. In the fourth Connor hit a daisy cutter to right field for one base. Richardson filed to O'Brien. Connor then stole second, and then by a brilliant slide he also stole third. O'Bourke flied to O'Brien. Whitney flied to Foutz, and then Connor disappeared in the direction of the club house to get another pair of pantaloons to slide with. This caused quite a delay, and in the meantime O'Day. Ewing got a base on balls, and Ward

THE SPECTATORS DANCED around the stand to keep warm. Collins was the first at the bat for the Grooms in the fifth, and he sent the ball to center for a pretty single. Burns was still mad when he came to the bat, and he did not feel much better when Gaffney and he did not feel much better when Gaffney began calling strikes on him. There was a good chance for a double on Burns, but after Collins had been put out by Ward and Richardson the latter threw badly to first, and Burns was safe. However, he was forced at second by Foutz, from Conner to Ward. A clean steal and a wild throw by Ewing put Foutz on third. Pinkney got his first on balls, then stole second. Terry hit to Ward, who threw to Connor. In New Yorks' fifth, O'Day went out from Collins to first. Slattery flied to Visner, Tiernan went to first on balls, but it did no good, for Ewing flied to Visner. It was pretty near time that the Chants got another run. It would be more comfortable to the New Yorkers.

ANOTHER RUN NEEDED. Brooklyns' sixth Visner flied to Slattery and Smith to Whitney. Bushong also flied to Whitney. Ward tried to bunt, but changed his antics by making a clean hit for a base and then end. Conner sacrificed from Smith to first and Ward got to third. Richardson hit a long fly to Visner and Ward came in with the tieing run. O'Rourke followed with a safe single and stole second on a wild throw. Whitney was retired by Foutz. The opening of the seventh saw O'Brien at the bat. He got to first on balls. Collins bunted the ball to Whitney, who by a quick play got the ball to second and O'Brien was out. Collins stole second clean. A sacrifice by Burns from Ward to first put Collins on third. Foutz made an effort to bring him home, but only flied out to O'Rourke. Now it was New Yorks lucky seventh. O'Day got to first on four bad balls. Not they forced O'Day at second from Terry to Collus and only prevented a double play by shiding to first. "Play ball" cried Ewing, but Teernan only hit up a foul which Pinkney caught. Slattery then stole second. A hit right here meant a run.

BUSHONG'S FATAL ERBOR. first and Ward got to third. Richardson hit a didn't seem to be able to do much, but when he struck at the ball for the third time and Bushong let the ball get away from him, Buck went around on the error and Slattery scored the run that decided the game. Terry was mad and would not give Ward a chance to hit the hall and sent him to first on balls. Connor out from Smith to Fouts. In the Brooklyns' eighth Pinkney began with a fly to Tiernan and Terry flied to Slattery. Visuer struck out amid cheers. The New Yorks were up for their eighth and last time. Richardson was an easy victim on a fly to Burns. Fouts got O'Rourke's sky scraper and the long first baseman also got Whitney's fly. "Getting kinder dark, ain't it?" called Ewing to Umpire Lynch, but Lynch did not think so. Smith came up for the Brooklyns' ninth. He got to first on an error by O'Day. Bushong hit a liner to Whitney, who not only held the ball but threw Smith out at first. Now for the fourth time O'Brien got a base on balls. Much dependence was placed on Collins by the Brooklynites, but O'Brien cut the inuing short by trying to steal second and hit the hall and sent him to first on balls. Con the inning short by trying to steal second and was thrown out by Ewing. Three cheers were NIMICK AND HANLON. Manager and President Have a Long Tall About Buseball Affairs.

Manager Hanlon, of the local club, went to New York last evening to be in readiness for the Brotherhood meeting on Monday next. Before leaving the city he had a long confer-ence with President Nimick on Brotherhood and League matters. When it ended the man ager said that nothing had been said about next year's prospects of the League.

In answer to a series of questions Mr. Hamlon said that he knew nothing about whether or not the Brutherhood had determined to reject all concessions from the League, and that as a Brotherhood delegate he will not do the Pittsburg League club any harm.

JOHNSON'S BIG STORY

He Tells How the Brotherhood Was Started.

HANLON A CHIEF PROMOTER

Of the Notion for Players to Make an Open Revolt.

A LOCAL PLAYER'S PLAIN STATEMENT.

He States the League Will be Asked to Make Concessions.

Al. Johnson, the aspiring baseball magnate of Cleveland, gives a long account regarding the history of the Brotherhood plan. He says that Manager Hanlon was one of its chief promoters. A local player states that the Brotherhood will ask for a great modification of the reserve rule. He defines the demand. CLEVELAND, October 29 .- Albert L. Johnson, who, it is claimed, is the originator of the Baseball Brotherhood, and whose money will be invested in the interest of the new organization, has at last given to the public a statement of the situation as he sees it.

"One evening last summer," said he, "Ed Hanlon called on me and asked if I did not have a ball ground on my street car line. He spoke of how the League had broken faith with them so often, and said that he, Ward, Pleffer and Fogarty, on their trip around the world, had thought of getting capital in each city to build the grounds for them, for which they would allow a fair percentage for their risk, the players to receive a portion of the profits, and to try, if such were possible, to liberate themselves from the tyrannical rule of the League. So I suggested that he introduce some one of the Clevelands to me, for I was then only acquainted with the older members of the League."

JOHNSON FELL IN LINE. "The result was he brought Twitchell the next evening to see me, and after a long talk, and their assurance of the feelings of all the players, I agreed to lend all the assistance within my power to help them accomplish their aim. So as each visiting club came we held meeting after meeting, until every League player had heard our views and had been given a chance to express himself, and suggest what-ever he thought would be for the best interests of such an organization.

"While at first sight one may be misled into "While at first sight one may be misled into thinking that co-operation is against good discipline, yet we think, our interests being identical, that with strict rules there is a sufficient guaranty that instead of lessening we will increase the chances of better behavior on the part of the men; and as we intend that the first club shall receive $7,000, the second $5,000, the third $8,000, the fourth $2,000, the first $1,500, the sixth $1,000 and the seventh $500 offering no inducement to the last, there will be, even to the end of the season, something more than empty honor, as at present, to play for."

THE PLAYERS' PLEDGES. "I know of but three League players to-day who have not pledged themselves to support his organization with every possible influence within their reach.

"As I have said, they have all pledged them selves, and there yet remains only the question as to whether or not they will keep their word; for, as certainly as they do, the capital awaits them in every city, and I feel assured that an anxious public will watch the opening of spring to help those who are endeavoring to help

"It the public had an opportunity to show what I have learned through the many meetings I have held, there would be left in their minds no room for doubt as to the sincerity of these men, with whom their only acquaintance has been upon the ball ground, or as to their capability of performing the duties that are prescribed for them next season.

EWING WAS CORRALED. "To show how they feel, I will state what happened at one of our meetings. Every player of both New York and Cleveland had attended three evenings in succession, and our sessions were never less than three hours' duration. At none of these meetings had Ewing attended. When, in the third meeting, I again asked why, there was a painful silence, and fearing that some might doubt his sympathy with the movement, I said I would go after with the mevement, I said I would go after Buck, for of all the players in the country I was better acquainted with him than any other. It was but a few minutes until I returned with him, and he stated that while he thought John B. Day the fairest baseball manager in the business, and that he himself felt as though he was treated as well as, if not better, than any other ball player on earth, he knew that this would be a blessing to Connors. Welch and Keefe and others who had played ball with him for years, and if they were to be Welch and Keefe and others who had played ball with him for years, and if they were to be benefited by it, he himself would make every possible endeavor to assist, and he was the first to sign an agreement of good faith to join in this move. We intend to place teams in Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, New York, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Buffalo and Chicago."

Mr. Johnson also states that Comisky, of the St. Louis club, will play first base for the Chicago club.

THIS SEEMS TRUTHFUL.

Local Ball Player Makes an Important and Plain Statement. A local ball player who has played with the Pittsburgs a long time made quite an impor-tant statement yesterday afternoon regarding the Brotherhood and the League. Until yesterday the player has had nothing to say on the natter, and his well-known truthfulness makes his statement probably more reliable than many that have been made on the matter.

has statement prototoly more relations many that have been made on the matter.

"Well, now, what are you players going to do on Monday? Let us have the truth?" said the writer to him.

"Why, now, I'll tell you exactly how matters stand. If the League does not give us what we want we intend to join another organization. We have held several meetings on the matter and discussed everything thoroughly, and we have come to the conclusion just stated. Of course we'll have to know whether or not the League will give us what we want before we decide definitely on anything."

"But what do you really want?"

"We have three principal requests to make,

decide definitely on anything."

"But what do you really want?"

"We have three principal requests to make, and of course you know two of them, viz., the abolition of the classification rule, and a change in the selling system, so that a player will get some of the purchase money and will not be sold against his will. The third is important andrelates to the reserve rule, but we want it modified as follows: That no player be reserved for more than four years, but if hie chouses to remain with the club after the four years are up he can do so, and of course that will mean other four years. We also demand that no player that is deemed an old player in the club shall be released until the end of the season without getting his season's salary. Young players who are sigued can be released as soon as the club discovers they are not up to the standard. But if they are kept in the club two or three years then we demand that they be not released until the season. I think these demands are reasonable. As far as I know Manager Hanlon and other Brotherhood representatives are instructed to support these claims at Monday's meeting and get them into shape to present to the League."

The demand relating to the modification or change of the reserve rule seems quite reasonable. If it were adopted the players would have a chance to materially reap the benefit of their improved playing, if they had improved, because if a player had become valuable during the four years at the expiration of the reserve term, other clubs would bid high for him.

Brotherhood Club.

CLEVELAND, October 29.—Tom Loftus, manager of the Cleveland League ball club, left for St. Louis to-day. He will go to Cincinnati next St. Louis to-day. He will go to Cincinnati next year as manager of the American Association team there at a salary of $3,500. The Cleveland team there at a salary of $5,500. The Cleveland directors would have liked to have retained him, but the Brotherhood movement has thrown them into confusion, and all they know at this time is that they will remain in the League and fight the Brotherhood. Loftus had the offer from Cincinnat, and considering a certainty better than an uncertainty, he will

CATTLE KINGS MUST GO.

Secretary Noble Orders Them to Vacate the Cherokee Ontlet-The Indians Have No Right Under the Law to Lease the Lands.

WASHINGTON, October 29 .- Secretary Noble, under date of October 26, has written a long letter to General Fairchild, Chairman of the Cherokee Commission, in which he virtually serves notice upon the cattle men who have leased from the Indians lands within what is known as the Cherokee outlet, that they must vacate the lands with their property on or before the 1st of June next, this date being fixed in order that they may escape without injury or suffering to their cattle. Continuing, the letter says that the total area of the Cherokee outlet lands lying west of the Arkansas river is iands lying west of the Arkansas river is 6,574,486 acres, of which 551,732 acres have been assigned to the Pawnee, Otoe and Missouri, Poncas and Nez Percez Indian tribes.

If the Cherokees are allowed $1 25 per acre for the 6,002,754 acres of unassigned lands, it will amount to $7,528,442. If the amount already paid in excess of appraised value for lands occupied and used be deducted, the amount to be paid to the Cherokee Nation will be $7,113,846. By this exhibit, says the Secretary, it will be per-ceived the Cherokees will derive from the United States the sum of at least $7,000,000, after deducting payments already made, which upon interest at 5 per cent per annum would net them yearly quite $350,-000 to be paid by the United States Gov-ernment. The Secretary says that a careful consideration of the whole subject by As-sistant Attorney General Shields led to the following conclusions:

First.—That leases of the "Cherokee Outlet' are unlawful and illegal.

Second—That the President has authority to declare invalid any agreement or lease of the outlet for grazing purposes contrary to the provisions of said section 2,116.

visions of said section 2,116.

Third—That he may cause the removal of unauthorized persons and property from this reservation whenever their presence is, in the judgment of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs and the Secretary of the Interior, "detrimental to the peace and welfare of the Indians, whether they claim to be on the reservation on a formal lease or by license or permit from the Cherokee Nation."

ONE AMERICAN PRODUCT

ST. LOUIS, October 29.-The All-Americas delegation was not ready this morning at 9 o'clock to inspect the fire department exhibition that had been fixed by the local committee to be given at that hour. The travelers were chiefly in bed. They were tired. Nearly 500 miles travel on Monday and reception hospitalities until 1 A. M. had given them zest for rest. Thus, the start in carriages for sight seeing was more than an bour late.

The morning was expended in visiting the various places of interest about the city. At the fair grounds the visitors were subsequently lunched at the house of the St. Louis Jockey Club, after which drive was resumed. After leaving the club house the party was driven through some fine residence streets and by the southern reservoir to the Anheuser-Busch brewery. Here they were met by Busch and welcomed by a salute. The brewery was inspected, the product tested, along with the true German accompaniment of boom-pernicket man accompaniment of boom-pernicket Switzer cheese. Several short speeches were made on the spur of the moment. Mr. Busch welcomed his guests. Mayor Noonan of the city, and Governor Francis intro-duced Senor Romero, the Mexican Minis-ter, who, in a few well-chosen remarks, expressed his gratification at the reception spoke of the favor with which America beer was regarded in Mexico, hoped that the Congress would result in strengthening the commercial and social relations of the nations on this hemisphere.

The excursionists returned to their hotel at 5 o'clock. In the evening they were entertained by the Marquette Club, which had arranged a reception for their benefit, and just before midnight they were again aboard their special train en route for Kansas City.

BUYING STONE QUARRIES NOW. No Apparent Limit to the Operations of the English Syndicate. CONCORD, N. H., October 29 .- There is a rumor current here that a movement is on floor which contemplates the purchase by an English syndicate of the entire stone quarry property on Rattlesnake Hill, in this city, and that the recent purchase of the Sullivan and Sargent quarries by the New England Granite Company, of which James G. Bat-terson, of Hartford, is President, is the first step in the deal. Rumor has it also that the syndicate will extend its operations to Vermont, and include as well all the large brickmaking establishments of New England.

The purpose of the movement, it is alleged, is to enable the syndicate to engage extensively in building operations and furnish the whole material from their own resources. An amount of capital practically unlimited is said to be behind this movement.

THAT CONTEST IN MONTANA.

All Technical Questions Are Speedily Overruled by the Court. HELENA, MONT., October 29 .- In the Silver Bow contest case to-day, the motion of the attorneys for the Republicans to quash the mandamus writ was overruled. The objection was then made to Judge Dewolf sitting in the Democratic case, as he was a candidate on the Democratic ticket, the objection being that he was an interested person. The Court decided that the writ should be so amended as to relate only to the count of the votes for the county officers named in the writ.

The attorneys for the Republicans then interposed a demurrer, which was overruled and the Board of Canvassers was directed to file its answer why the vote in the Tunnel precincts was not counted. The court then adjourned.

Lots for a 87,000 Farm. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., October 29 .- The police are looking for Harry H. Cooper with a warrant for his arrest, charging him with procuring $7,000 on forged deeds to property in Wichita, Kan. Cooper came here last June, procured entrance into the best social circles and married a daughter of Captain Day, one of the wealthiest of St.

Joseph's merchants.

He claimed to own a number of lots in Wichita and traded them for $7,000 worth of farm properly to A. G. Norria. Cooper sold the farm for $7,000 and left town. The deeds to the Wichita lots have been discovered to be forgeries.

DUPES FOR A TIME

The Believers in a Daughter of the Lord to Get Back the Property

SHE COULD NOT TAKE WITH HER.

Report of the Master in the Case of the Late J. Elimar Mira Mitta.

Queer Credulity of a Religious Sect That Flourished for Awhile.

A VERY SINGULAR DELUSION RECALLED.

A report has been prepared by the master in the case of a woman who claimed to be the daughter of the Lord, and who succeeded in acquiring an interest in some Philadelphia real estate which was bought and paid for by her dupes. The report vests the ownership of the property in the parties who contributed toward its purchase.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, October 29 .- William C. Mayne, the master appointed by Judge Mitchell to take testimony in equity proceedings involving the ownership of the real estate left by Anna Meister, or, as she styled herself, "J. Elimar Mira Mitta, the daughter of the Lord," has completed his report, and will file it in court at the expiration of the usual ten days allowed for a review of the case by the attorneys of the parties in interest. The bill in equity was filed on April 28, 1887, by Philip Becker, Christine Becker, Jacob Endress, Lissette Munzert, August Werner, Caroline Lang and Julia Rubman against Meta Meister. Salome Blattman, Lissette Betzinger, Catherine Meister, Albert Meister, Charles Meister, Edward Meister, Rosa Kennedy, Lena Meister, Emily Grat, Bertha Bonine, Jacob Betzinger, David J. Kennedy, William Grant, Lizzie Meister, Adelle Meister, Ella Meister and George D. Brown, the legal heirs of Anna Meister.

STORY OF THE PROPERTY. The complainants, in their bill, set forth that about the year 1855 they, in company with other people, were in the habit of meet-ing at different places to receive religious instruction from J. Elimar Mira Mitta, who claimed to be the daughter of the Lord, and who was worshiped as such. They formed a voluntary and unincorporated religious association, which was supported by the contributions of those who came to hear her. In 1864 the complainants raised the sum of $5,000, with which they purchased the property at 1,128 South Eleventh street, as a permaneut place of worship. The title was vested in Anna Meister, under her spirit-ual name of J. Elimar Mira Mitts, and in the deed no reference was made to any trust or agency in the matter, but the complainants declare that there was a verbal understanding between them and Anna Meister, at the time of the purchase, to the effect

SHE WAS TO HOLD THE PROPERTY for them and as their agent. August Werner and Lissette Munzert, two of the complainants, say that as soon as the trans-action was completed they occupied the premises, and continue to do so up to the present time. Anna Meister lived with them in the house, and they claim that they took care of her and the property, paying all gas and tax bills, water rent and repairs.

J. Elimar Mira Mitta died in January, 1884, unmarried and intestate. Letters of administration were granted to her sister, Mesa Meister, who, with other heirs, claimed the property under the intestate laws of Pennsylvania. Those who had contributed he money to purchase the property also claimed it, and the present proceedings were begun to compel a transfer of the legal title to them. The defendants based their case ipally on the deed to J. Elimar Mira Mitta and the fact that

THERE WAS NO TRUST reated in it, and that she had during her ifetime often declared that the property be-onged to her personally, and she could dis-ose of it as she saw fit. They claimed that pose of it as she saw fit. They claimed that Mrs. Meister served the association as their religious instructor and pastor; attended them as physician during sickness, and was worshiped and regarded by them as the third person in the Holy Trinity, being looked upon as the Comforter that was to come—the Holy Spirit; that she rendered very valuable services, for which the money advanced was but a fair and reasonable mpensation. William C. Mayne was appointed examiner on May 4, 1888, and master on June 4, 1888. A large amount of testimony was taken on each side, and after a careful sifting of all the facts and the law in the matter, the master reports in favor of the com-plainants, and recommends the Court to issue a decree compelling the defendants to make over the title to the members of the religious association, in the proportion of the amounts of money contributed by each.

LINEMAN FEEKES' DEATH.

The Coroner's Jury Returns a Verdict Condemning Overhead Wires. NEW YORK, October 29 .- The jury in the case of the death of Lineman Feekes returned a verdict this evening. They found that Feekes cames to his death by electric shock caused by contact with a Western Union or a Metropolitan Company telephone wire, which they believed to have been crossed by an electric light wire, probably of the Brush or United States companies. They further stated that imper-fect insulation was to a great extent the cause of the accident, and that the sys-tem of overhead wires, as operated in this city, was dangerous and called for the jury's condemnation.

It recommended that the subways should be extended, and that the wires be buried, and that meanwhile high tension wires should be kept on separate poles. Advice was given to linemen to use all precautions in handling wires, such as wearing rubber

THE NATION'S NAVY YARDS.

Secretary Tracey Will Ask Congress to Formulate a Definite Policy. WASHINGTON, October 29 .- In his forthcoming report Secretary Tracey will, it is understood, urge upon Congress the adoption of some positive policy with regard to the navy yards. The people interested in opening those now closed and maintaining them in a state of activity have presented their arguments to the Secretary and these have been submitted to the chiefs of the several pureaus for their examination and report. For the Portsmouth yard an esti-mate for $150,000 has been submitted by the Bureau of Yards and Docks and by the several bureaus of yards and docks, enginseveral bureaus of yards and docks, engin-eerings and construction, estimates amount-ing to $300,000 for the Boston yard. Secretary Tracey will probably ask Con-gress to open the yards for the construction or repair of ships, or the establishment of training ships with the barracks for appren-tices, or else close them entirely and dispose of the property and plant.

A DULL WOOL MARKET The Cause of the Fallure of a Large Philadelphia Firm. PHILADELPHIA, October 29 .- The firm of Heston & Erben, wool dealers. 110 Chestnut street, have made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors to George W. Fiss and Samuel Lea. The assignees decline to make a statement of the assets and liabili-ties of the firm to-day, claiming that they have not the exact figures. It was learned, however, from a trustworthy source, that the liabilities are between $300,000 and $400,-000—nearly $400,000. The assets are not known. The members of the firm say that if given a little time they will be able to pay dollar for dollar. They attribute the failure to a dull wool market and the high rates for money, which have made the banks heaitate to make any accommodating loays.

They have been unable to convert their stock of wool into money on account of dullness of the market and although the market is becoming firmer now, with a better demand, they were unable to wait for it, as obligations were coming in. Therefere they felt that it was for the best interests of all their creditors to make the assignment, and did so. They are preparing a statement which will be ready in a few days and which will give the details of their liabilities and assets. This will be submitted to a meeting of the oreditors, to be called as soon as it is ready. as it is ready.

The Westinghouse Company to Start Au other Industry. An application for a charter will be made to the Governor on Wednesday, November 20, by officials of the Westinghouse Company for the Duquesne Mining and Reduc pany for the Duquesne Mining and Reduction Company. The new concern is to be organized to operate some copper mines in Washington Camp, Ariz. The copper will be used in the plant of the Westinghouse Electric Company. The latter consumes several million pounds of copper each year in the manufacture of electrical machinery. They have come to the conclusion that it is cheaper to smelt their own copper than to buy it from the syndicate.
